

Cerebral Palsy Awareness Event 2013

Perspectives on Hope and Ability

CDC's National Center on Birth Defects and Developmental Disabilities, University of Alabama at Birmingham, and United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Birmingham invite you to join us for an event featuring

Stephen Dantzig, PsyD

School psychologist, professional photographer, and author of
Get Up, Your Bus is Here: Living My Life with Cerebral Palsy
Tuesday Evening, March 26, 2013 | 6:00PM-7:30PM

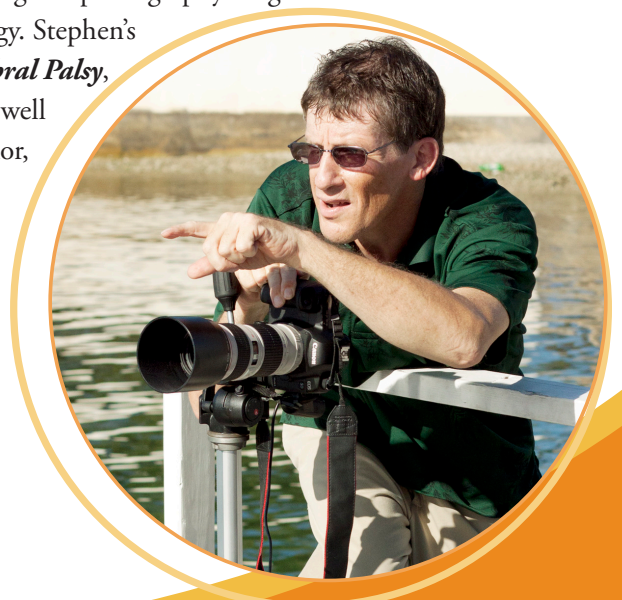

Doors open at 5:00PM for a book signing and light refreshments.
LINCPoint at United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Birmingham,
101 Oslo Circle, Birmingham, AL

Stephen Dantzig is a school psychologist, professional photographer, and author. He is a nationally renowned lighting expert and owner of the Hawaii School of Photography. His specialties include fashion, beauty, and corporate photography. He has written over 100 articles for some of the most prestigious photography magazines and websites. He is the author of 10 books and eBooks on photography and psychology. Stephen's most recent book, Get Up, Your Bus Is Here: Living My Life With Cerebral Palsy, chronicles his life growing up with cerebral palsy, details his successes as well as his struggles, and shares life lessons as a professional photographer, author, and school psychologist working with severely disabled children. Stephen holds a Doctor of Psychology degree from the Rutgers University Graduate School of Applied and Professional Psychology. He now works, teaches, and resides in Honolulu, Hawaii and serves on the Board of Directors of UCP of Hawaii.

Registration is encouraged: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/BFF9QCJ>

This event is free and open to the public.

For questions and additional information, please contact
Michael Vaughan at 205-975-9575 or mvaughan@uab.edu.

National Center on Birth Defects and Developmental Disabilities
Division of Birth Defects and Developmental Disabilities

